DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Drawings

2. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a) because they fail to show Fig. 7 as described in the specification. Any structural detail that is essential for a proper understanding of the disclosed invention should be shown in the drawing. MPEP § 608.02(d). A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.
3. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the "medium fixing member" and the "recording means" must be shown or the features canceled from the claims 1-5. No new matter should be entered.

A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

4. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

5. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because the abstract includes the terminology that should be avoided such as "means". Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

6. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

8. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ohashi (JP 9-166954.)

Ohashi discloses a cooling device for an image forming device comprising a medium fixing member (drum 4) for fixing a recording medium to its surface, a recording means (36) for producing a record on said recording medium, an air supply means (fans 50a, 50b) for supplying air into the device to build up positive pressure in its interior, and a humidifying means (humidifier) contained within the recording apparatus so that temperature or humidity (cooling) is held constant in said device.

With regard to claim 2, Ohashi further teaches the humidifier being located between the fans (50a, 50b,) either one of which can be used as an air suction or an air exhaust system in such a way that the humidifier is located at upstream of one of the fans.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

9. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

10. Claims 3-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ohashi in view of Hashizume et al. (JP 57-18255.)

Ohashi discloses all the basic limitations of the claimed invention except for the humidifying means being located in the feed path of the recording medium, a water-retaining material or roller being used as a humidifier.

However, Hashizume et al. discloses a printing device in which the amount of wetting water is controlled through a water-transferring roller (2) to a water-applying roller (4) to feed water to a printing surface (6.)

It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to modify the device of Ohashi with the aforementioned teaching of Hashizume et al. for the purpose of providing a controlled amount of water to the recording medium to make the quality of the printed matter uniform.
